

“It begins with you”

www.foladaniel.wordpress.com

There is a very interesting advert that I have heard for several months on radio and television. I have also seen it on newspapers and web sites of organizations and the closing words of that advert is, “imagine the possibility of an HIV/AIDS free generation, it begins with you.”

If this is true, then I want to inform the Nigerian youths to Imagine the possibility of a lawless Nigeria, it begins with you! Imagine the possibility of a beautiful Nigeria, it begins with you! Imagine the possibility of a progressive Nigeria, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of a corruption free Nigeria, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of excellent academic environment, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of smooth traffic in Nigeria, it begins with you.

If all is going to be well in Nigeria, it begins with you. If we would have a nation that upholds the truth, it begins with you. If we are going to follow due process, it begins with you. If we are going to have less of cheats parading themselves as religious leaders, it begins with you.

Imagine the possibility of a Nigeria admired by all nations, It begins with you. Imagine the possibility of NIGERIA VISA LOTTERY, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of millions stranded at the airport because they want to see the nation called Nigeria, it begins with you. Imagine a Senate house that is interested in the people it represents, it begins with you. Imagine the emergence of true representation in political offices, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of compassionate leadership instead of subjecting citizens to servitude, it begins with you.

The possibility of an atmosphere permeated by love is hanging on the fact that it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of a secured Nigeria where the response of the Nigerian force will not create a comic scene, it begins with you. Imagine a setting where it is impossible for any “sacred cow” to steal in our national pause without being adequately dealt with, it begins with you. Imagine a country with the best of medical practitioners, it begins with you. Imagine a country with the best of business consultants, it begins with you.

Imagine a country where medical practioners give priority to lives instead of instant gratification, it begins with you.

Imagine the possibility of doing business without compromising integrity, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of getting government grants for ideas developed by citizens without tipping government officials, it begins with you.

Imagine the possibility of twenty-four hour electricity when you have decided not to boycott PHCN because of payment for meter, it begins with you. Imagine the possibility of pushing NIGERIA to the most developed nation in the world, after paying your tax, it begins with you.

All that we ever desire in our nation begins with you. All that we think our leaders should do begins with you. All that we expect to see in the educational sector begins with you. All that we expect to see in the agricultural sector begins with you. When we want a change and when things need to change, it begins with us.

A civil service set up with zero tolerance for corruption and nonchalance on government issues is suspended on the truth that it begins with you. Imagine when this nation will change, it begins with you. Imagine how this nation will change, it begins with you. Imagine why this nation will change, it begins with you. Imagine who is the most appropriate person to start the change, it begins with you. Imagine how the change begins, it begins with you. Because I do not want to be selfish my last words in this article will be that it truly begins with “you” that you is you and I.

Fola Daniel Adelesi,
Edible Pen Organization.

Www.foladaniel.wordpress.com
0805 247 2448 0703 790 7851
tok2daniel@yahoo.com